Manuel du sous-groupement tactique interarmes

The document outlines a tactical strategy for French military command and staff training, with a focus on the importance of planning and execution at the operational and tactical levels. The concept of "noyau dur" (hard core) refers to the infantry regiment providing the backbone of the brigade's plan, while the PPO (Plan Pour l'Opération) serves as the foundation for their planning. The document also touches on the theme of tactics, including the use of a tactical database (LDT) and the importance of combining arms in both discovery and combat situations. Additionally, it highlights the need for a permanent organizational structure for LDTs based on the NATO concept of operations. Furthermore, it provides various documents and guidelines for infantry training, such as Aide Memoire du Chef de Section d'Infanterie, Doctrines d'Employe de l'Infanterie, FT-01 Gagner la Bataille Conduire à la Paix, TTA 150, etc. The XIII Hygiene and Emergency Care manual has been downloaded, weighing approximately 940.5K bytes (TTA format). Additionally, the XX La Correspondance Militaire manual is available for download as well. The content was accessed through www.brave-veterans.com/ and is identified as an INF publication with a release date of May 18, 1999, under file number 683/CDES/CREDAT/B3.
